Mardi Gras Festival To Be Held In High School Gym

The Junior Tea Dance and Silver Tea At The Community House

The Mardi Gras Festival date of February 25th is being marked on many calendars, as news comes that the ladies have secured the high school gymnasium for this gala affair. The impressive coronation pageant, in its sixth year, having grown in length as well as beauty, made it necessary to find a bigger hall equipped with a large seating capacity to take care of the number of people who have expressed a wish to witness this event.

The five former Kings and Queens have been issued invitations to participate as well as visiting royalty from the University, Greenwood, Water Valley, Charleston, Winona, Calhoun City and neighboring towns. Many of Grenada's liveliest children will take part as attendants to the pageant. The unique method of voting at thirty prominent places of business with cash purchases of 25c or more, makes the choice of Queen for 1938 anybody's guess. Voting will be concluded at the close of the day's business on Monday, February 21st. Ask for your votes.

An added attraction this year will be the Junior Tea Dance given as part of the Festival in connection with the Silver Tea. This part of the program will be given at the Community House. A silver offering will admit grown-ups as well as children.

During the afternoon a floor show, presenting pupils of Mrs. Hathorn and Miss Wiggins will comprise part of the entertainment. Each admittance entitles that person to cast a vote for Junior King and Queen, who will be crowned at the Silver Tea, in a special coronation pageant. A school orchestra will furnish music for the evening. Remember the hours are from 4 to 6, Friday afternoon, February 25th.

Johnson Returns To State College

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 15.—H. S. Johnson, state secretary of the Farm Bureau since October, 1936, has returned to State College as rural organization specialist with the Extension Service.

Active charge of the state office at Jackson is now in the hands of Ransom E. Aldrich of Michigan City, president of the Mississippi Agricultural Association with which Farm Bureau units in 78 Mississippi counties are affiliated. The change was announced by President Aldrich speaking for the executive committee.

"I regret very deeply that it has been necessary for Major Johnson to return to State College," Aldrich said. "Major has devoted his best time and energies to the development of Farm Bureau and as a result of his efforts the Farm Bureau has made progress."

The former Farm Bureau secretary will continue to work closely with county and community farm organizations in his present capacity.

"As I return to my former duties of rural organization specialist in the Extension Service, it is with the understanding and the assurance to you that you may expect from me the same interest and effort in behalf of Farm Bureau," Johnson assured Farm Bureau officials.

Children In Court

A cursory survey of the case histories of a gang of delinquent boys plainly reveals that they came from broken, crowded and unhygienic homes. In several cases it was found that the parents were not only drunkards and thieves, but were utterly unprepared to guide and direct their children.

The problem of inadequate parentage is frequently due to lack of parental education and misunderstanding. In many instances parents are largely responsible for children's misconduct because of the examples they set them in the home. When parents are unaware that children unconsciously imitate them, they are likely to give no thought to what they say or do in the child's presence.

Semi-Final Basketball Tournament

On Tuesday, February 22, there will be held in Grenada High School gymnasium a basketball tournament in which six of the best teams in this part of the state will participate. This will be a Regional Semi-Final Tournament in which the first and second place boys and girls teams from the Duck Hill and Calhoun City Tournaments will play to pick the teams which will go to the Final Tournament at Water Valley. There will be four games in the afternoon, the first game beginning at 2:30. From 6:30 p. m. to 7:30 p. m. there will be an intermission, after which the two final games will be played. Admission to the four afternoon games will be 10c for school children and 15c for adults. Admission to the two night games will be 10c for school children and 25c for adults. Admission to all games, both afternoon and night, will be 20c for school children, and 35c for adults. These will be outstanding teams, since only the best teams from the previous two tournaments will play in this tournament.

March 5 Is Date To Elect Trustees

Saturday, March 5th is the regular date for the election of trustees in common and consolidated school districts. The election should be held at the school house at two o'clock. Instructions have been sent out from the office of the State Department of Education to the superintendent of each county giving details for holding these elections.

To be eligible to the office of a trustee in a common school district or a consolidated school district having three trustees, a person must be a bona fide resident of the district, a qualified elector, not an employee of the school district, nor a teacher in any public school. A majority of the trustees must be patrons of the school.

In order to vote in the trustee election, a person must be a bona fide resident of the school district, a qualified elector, and possess one of the following qualifications: Must be the parent or guardian of a child who has attended school in the district for eight (8) weeks during the session, or is the parent or guardian of a child who will be six years old before the first day of September and has lived in the school district for one year, or owns realty property in such district assessed on last year's roll of the county.

In order to avoid confusion in the election, the present trustees should have a list prepared of all the people in the district who are qualified to vote in said election. If this is done, much confusion will be avoided.

Numerous questions are frequently asked in regard to the trustee election and I am giving some of them here.

1. Can a person who is not a patron of the school serve as trustee? Answer: One of the three may be a non-patron.

2. Can a member of the county school board be elected trustee? Answer: No.

3. Can a person be a trustee of one school and patronize another? Answer: No.

4. Can the trustees go back of the poll book and check the sheriff's poll tax receipt to determine if a person is qualified to vote? Answer: Yes.

5. Is a person required to present the poll tax receipts before he is allowed to vote? Answer: Not unless some question is raised in regard to his eligibility.

6. If a person whose name is not on the list prepared by the trustees insists on voting, what should be done? Answer: Permit the person to vote under protest as in a regularly conducted county election, that is; put the ballot in an envelope, write thereon the name of the person voting, seal it, and get instructions from the county superintendent as to whether it can be legally counted.

THREE LOCAL BOYS ENLIST IN THE U. S. NAVY

Arpad Bodisich, Powell White, and John Davis, all of this City, were enlisted in the U. S. Navy, at the Navy Recruiting Station, New Orleans, La., this week. The boys were sent to the Naval Training Station, Norfolk, Va., where they will receive a three month's course of training before being sent to one of the ships of the U. S. Fleet.

Special Programs at Methodist Church Sunday Morning

Special Message By Pastor, and Special Music By Choir Will Feature the Service

The 11 o'clock hour next Sunday morning at the Methodist Church will be dedicated especially to the young people. A special program is being planned with some of the young people taking part. A special message by the pastor and special music by the choir will feature the service.

We are looking for at least 100 young people under 25 at this service. We are asking fathers and mothers and church school workers to cooperate with us in this undertaking. Rain or shine, hot or cold, we want as our guests of honor next Sunday the young people.

At the evening hour we will begin the review of a subject of vital interest to the whole church—"The Spiritual Life." The message will be based upon the life and experience of John Wesley, founder of Methodism. The heart-warming experience of Mr. Wesley was the beginning of a great revival which not only affected the Church of England, but the whole world.

Misses Lucile Pearce and Grace Henry, valued members of the public school faculty, will be the principal speakers on the evening program. The Missionary Society is cooperating in these special evening services and a large attendance is expected.

All adult members will please bring the special offering asked for last Sunday for the Memorial Mercy Home.

C. A. Parks, Pastor.

DEFERRED REGISTRATION A BOON TO MISSISSIPPI

Because approximately half of the motorists in Mississippi have incomes of only $20 to $30 a week, they lose up to half a week's wages from their pocketbooks when they pay for new license plates. E. H. Simpson, Chairman of the Mississippi Petroleum Industries Committee, said today in a statement urging passage of House Bill No. 435 which would fix October 1st as the date for renewal of license plates.

"Loss of that money during the year-end holiday season is particularly hard on the thousands of motorists in Mississippi with incomes of less than $30 a week," said Mr. Simpson. "Take the case of a factory worker. According to the U. S. Department of Labor, the average factory worker has no big financial reserve. The $10 to $15 that he must put on the line for his license plates before January 1st comes at the worst time of the year, a time when his wife is shopping, when the children need clothing, when there is turkey to buy. The result is that the motorists of modest or low incomes tend to cut down on their purchases. The motorists have less money. The merchants get less money. That makes general business bad."

"Because of this situation, more than 30 states have adopted the policy of deferring the registration date of automobiles from January 1st to later in the year usually October 1st. That takes the pressure off the pocketbooks of the motorists of modest means, and helps stimulate business during the last two months of the year."

Every state that has adopted deferred registration reports that it helps everyone and that there are no disadvantages whatsoever. Even the states benefit, for they get additional gasoline taxes from thousands of automobiles which would temporarily be off the road while their owners are recovering from the year-end bills.

"Deferred registration is one sound way in which the government can help business."

FEDERAL INCOME TAX REPRESENTATIVE HERE MAR. 4

A representative of the Treasury Department, Bureau of Internal Revenue, will be in Grenada, Friday, March 4, for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in filing their Federal Income Tax Returns for the year 1937.

He will give special attention to the filing of corporation returns and the assistance given, including acknowledgment of returns, is free to the public.

He will be located on the second floor of the Post Office Building.

Camp Tallaha Will Open June 19th

Camp Tallaha will open Sunday, June 19th according to advice just received from R. E. Bobo, Chairman of the Delta Boy Scout Council Camping Committee.

At a meeting of the Camping Committee held at Camp Tallaha recently plans were completed for the operation of six weeks of Scout camp and four weeks of girls camps, the girls camps to open July 31st.

Scout Executive Geo. Simpson, will be in charge of the operation of summer camping program of the Scouts of the Delta with Field Executive J. D. Bice serving as Camp Director at Camp Tallaha. It is expected that practically all of the men who have served so efficiently on the staff during the past two years will be back again at Tallaha for the 1938 summer season.

The Committee has again enlisted Miss Evelyn Baird of Clarksdale as Director of the girls camp.

Necessary repairs and improvements to the camp are now under way and everything will be in readiness for one of the biggest camping seasons in the history of the camp.

The need for a deep well at the camp has been recognized by the committee and plans are being made to provide this additional supply of water prior to the opening of the camp.

Mr. R. B. Edwards, 81 Years Of Age, Died February 15

"Uncle Bob" Was Widely Known Through Grenada County

Mr. R. B. Edwards, 81, died at his home in the Sparta community Tuesday, February 15th.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. C. A. Parks, were held the following afternoon at 2 o'clock from Sparta Church. Interment followed in Sparta cemetery.

Mr. Edwards was a member of the Methodist Church as was a very enthusiastic church worker. He was widely known throughout the county and will be fondly remembered as "Uncle Bob."

Surviving are his wife, three daughters and one son.

Three Million Forest Seedlings Available

State College, Miss., Feb. 16.—Three million forest tree seedlings are available to Mississippi farmers for reforestation, erosion control work and planting for birds and other wildlife, according to J. B. Toler, forester of the Mississippi Extension Service. Species available are black locust, longleaf pine, slash pine, shortleaf pine, loblolly pine, black walnut, yellow poplar, white oak, cypress, chestnut, oak, hackberry, hickory, catalpa, ash, box elder, Siberian pea tree, red bud, dogwood, and Scotch broom.

This supply of tree seedlings has been arranged for, said the state extension forester, for distribution to farmers and landowners at a very small cost plus extension charges from the nursery. Persons interested in securing seedlings for planting during the current season, he said, should place their orders through their local county agricultural agent.

The demand for tree seedlings is greater this year, said Toler, than in previous years. This increased interest is partly due to the provision of the Agricultural Conservation Program with respect to tree planting and to the planning being done by the farmers in proper land use methods.

Shipments of the tree seedlings will continue to go forward during the next sixty days.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Thursday evening of this week Mrs. C. E. Lockett was delightfully surprised with a lovely birthday dinner, by her eldest son, C. E. (Chick) Lockett, Jr.

Upon entering the dining room Mrs. Lockett was greeted by a beautiful snow-white birthday cake with tiny white candles and pink holders. The table was beautifully decorated with maiden hair fern.

The menu planned for this happy occasion consisted of stuffed tomato soup, pickles, nut bread and whole wheat sandwiches, Rita cheese, crackers, ice cream and coffee.

Benefits Awaiting Eligible Workers Since January

Many Persons Reported Overlooking Claims On Reaching Age of 65

Scattered throughout Mississippi and the Southeast, there are a good many men and women who have reached age 65 since January 1, 1937, and who have overlooked the opportunity to collect funds from the United States Government. These persons are entitled to lump-sum benefits paid under the Federal old-age insurance system to workers who reach the age of 65 and do not fulfill all the conditions for receiving regular monthly retirement checks.

The reminder is issued that not only these persons but survivors of these employees who have died since the old-age insurance provision of the Social Security Act went into effect on January 1, 1937, can obtain the benefits which are due them if they will communicate with the nearest field office of the Social Security Board and secure the necessary forms for making application. Such an office of the Board is located at 219 West Market Street, in Greenwood. This field office of the Board handles this work in the counties of Grenada, Marshall, Leflore, Holmes, Humphreys, Carroll, Montgomery, Yazoo, Lafayette, Tate, Panola, Tallahatchie, Tunica, Coahoma, Bolivar, Sunflower, and Quitman. David W. Fite is manager of the Greenwood office.

There is now an exemption of most personal property, no read tax and poll tax optional, except upon the possession of taxable property.

The tax commission complains that we are far too low on our valuation on fixtures in stores, so I hope, if possible, we can hold them to the present level, as it puts the supervisors to the unpleasant duty of re-assessing them and upon me the task of trying to explain the low valuation to the tax commission.

Hoping that you will try and cooperate with me, and assuring you that I am trying to the best of my ability to take care of you, I am,

Yours truly,
W. E. BOUSHE.

CLARE TREE MAJOR'S CHILDREN'S THEATRE

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 10.—The Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre of New York will present Toby Tyler, or Ten Weeks with the Circus, at the auditorium, Saturday matinee, February 19th. This is the third in a series of plays for children under the local direction of Mr. W. Angier, Inc., and is the last play for this season. So outstanding has been the success of the Children's Theatre here, that plans are already under way for another series of plays to be presented next year.

Toby Tyler comes to the auditorium accompanied by his beloved "Mr. Stubbs." Mr. Stubbs is one of the most important actors in the play, though he has no lines to speak, and his vocal contribution to the performance will be a sort of cackle. This may mean a great deal in Mr. Stubbs' native language, and though the boys and girls may not understand what he is saying to them, it will still mean a great deal to them, for Mr. Stubbs is a monkey, a real live performing monkey! In Europe the itinerant organ grinder, with his monkey dressed in a bright little coat and cap, collecting pennies in a shining tin cup, is a very usual sight. But monkeys are not common here, and Mr. Stubbs is proving a great attraction to his young audiences. We travel in a warmly lined basket and his care is a very serious responsibility to his young master. His food is carefully planned, and no indiscriminate feeding is allowed between meals.

His engagement with the Clare Tree Major Company has been promised him months in advance, and like other actors, he has been busily engaged in preparing himself for it. How he has been fully launched in his theatrical career and appreciates the importance of his job as completely as do other actors.

Though Mr. Stubbs was born in South America and resided in busy bustling New York and thought he lived a very eventful life there, he has quite changed his mind since joining the Clare Tree Major company. Now he really lives. Each day, in a new town, he awaits impatiently the hour of the performance. The bright lights of the stage and the noise of the applauding children frightened him at first, but he soon grew to understand and love them, and now he watches the daily preparations for the performances more eagerly than does the stage manager. "His audience" must not be kept waiting and only the strongest physical persuasion prevents him from making his entrance long before he is expected to.

Tickets for Toby Tyler are on sale with Martha W. Angier, Inc., 1824 Harbert or from the Walton Piano Co., 88 S. 2nd St. phone 8-7824. Prices are $1.65, $1.10 in the parquet; 55, 35, 25 cents in the balcony. A discount of 10 percent allowed on parties of ten.

A Word From The Tax Assessor

It is not humanly possible in the time allotted me to see each individual and make a new assessment. On account of the great number of land transfers, my work is far greater than has ever been in the history of Grenada county.

In regard to these changes, with Mr. Pressgrove's help and the records in the Chancery Clerk's office, we are diligently and painstakingly looking after your interests, trying to the best of our ability to see that each is equalized with his neighbor.

If I should fail to see you and you desire any changes as to valuation, come to the assessor's office. If I am out assessing, some one in the court house will take your assessment. However, I am painfully compelled to remind you that there can be no lowering of valuation, unless you can show yourself to be out of line with similar properties. Every one thinks himself assessed too high.

There is now an exemption of most personal property, no read tax and poll tax optional, except upon the possession of taxable property.

The tax commission complains that we are far too low on our valuation on fixtures in stores, so I hope, if possible, we can hold them to the present level, as it puts the supervisors to the unpleasant duty of re-assessing them and upon me the task of trying to explain the low valuation to the tax commission.

Hoping that you will try and cooperate with me, and assuring you that I am trying to the best of my ability to take care of you, I am,

Yours truly,
W. E. BOUSHE.

Weir's Barber Shop In New Home

Weir's Barber Shop moved Wednesday night to their new home on the ground floor of the Masonic Temple, on the southeast corner across the street from the Post Office.

Messrs. Sax and Hamp Weir invite their friends to visit them at their new location.

THOMASON SELECTED FRAT PRESIDENT

State College, Miss., Feb. 16.—Gamma Theta Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha has selected Edward G. Thomason, of Grenada, president for the year.

Other officers are: Clinton Nickles, Columbus, vice-president; W. E. Weems, Shubuta, treasurer.

ROTARY ANNS TO BE HONORED

The local Rotary Club will honor the Rotary Anns with a dinner at the Community House Tuesday evening. E. W. Sharp, Vassar Duhard and H. L. Honeycutt are in charge of the arrangements.

Impending Menace Of Drug Addiction Hangs Many Innocent Heads Over State

where they are not conscious of local addicts of both marijuana and barbituric acid.

"The great tragedy of marijuana is its attack on the youth of the land," Dr. Underwood continued. Young boys and girls in high school and colleges are led on by small-time racketeers to try something new, something with a punch, a hot dog stand proprietor, or sometimes even the school janitor, goes over big with youngsters of the 'teen age, blind to danger, and daring, to their woe, to try anything once.

"Misdemeanors and crimes unthought of in a normal state are committed under the influence of marijuana, and police records all over the United States are sickeningly dark with the story of gross offenses committed by school boys and girls who 'got lit' on the weed and didn't know what they were doing. The drug acts physiologically by causing the brain to deteriorate, finally bringing on violent insanity."

Citing the tragic case of a South Mississippi woman who went raving crazy from smoking only one and a half marijuana cigarettes, the health officer pointed out that the acute, immediate, and overwhelming danger of the drug cannot be overemphasized.

Dr. Underwood stated in summary that drug addiction means moral degradation, physical wreckage, social pollution, economic ruin, and increased crime, and he warned Mississippians to be wise and beware of the narcotic menace.

Exempt Rural Power Lines From Taxation Says John E. Rankin

Appeals to Legislature to Remove Taxes From Lines Not Operated For Profit

Washington, D. C. Feb. 16.—An appeal has been made to Governor White and the Mississippi State Legislature by Congressman John E. Rankin, to relieve from taxation the rural electrification lines throughout the state that are owned cooperatively and not operated for profit.

"It seems to me to be unjust," said Mr. Rankin, "to exempt from taxation new industrial enterprises that are operated for profit, and then to impose a heavy tax on the farmers' rural power lines that are cooperatively owned and not operated for profit."

"More than half the counties of the state have already applied for funds with which to build rural power lines, and new applications are being made every week. But this development is being retarded and discouraged by the heavy taxes imposed upon them, when they are designed to serve, without profit, the farmers who are already paying taxes on everything they own."

"These lines were exempted from taxation at one time by the provisions of S. 48, passed by the extraordinary session of the legislature in 1935, but I understand that law was repealed by Chapter 184, House Bill 578, Page 353, Acts of 1936."

"Nothing that has ever come to the farmers of Mississippi has done so much for them as the cheap electricity which these rural lines bring."

"By all means, these rural electrification projects, that are not operated for profit, should be exempted from taxation."

Grenada Scouts Win

In the Boy Scouts Rally at Greenwood Tuesday night, Grenada Troop won two second places, two first places, and one third place. Grenada troops tied with Greenwood for first honors in the rally. Grenada Scouts participating in different contests are as follows:

Signaling, First Place — Bennie Cohen, Leon Province.
Knot-tying, First Place — Floyd Theisman, Jack Dulweber, Charles Kenwright, Tommie Houston.
First Aid, Second Place — L. D. Boone, Leon Province, Tommie Houston, Billy Foster, Sidney Kettle, Charles Heath, Charles Kenwright.

Inspection, Second Place — Jack Dulweber, L. D. Boone, Posey Gant, Bennie Cohen, Leon Province, Sidney Kettle, Floyd Theisman, Merritt Clagston.
Marching, Third Place — All of Grenada Troop.

BE COURTEOUS IN THE GYM

At the games in the gymnasium there are always visitors from other towns and people interested in the opposing team. We are always glad to have these visitors and wish that we might have more of them. They are there at our invitation and they should be treated as our guests. Just as a guest in our homes is deserving of our attention and consideration so are our visitors here at the school gymnasium.

We want enthusiasm at the games. We want everyone to have a good time and play the game on the sidelines with the team on the court. There should be cheering and encouragement but not to excessiveness. Actually, some people are not coming to our games because of the extremely loud whistling, and cheers, and (we are ashamed to admit) jeers. Booming the other team doesn't hurt them but it does cast a reflection on us. It shows that we lack sportsmanship. The efforts and accomplishments of the other team deserves as much admiration on our part as those of our own team. We must be sportsmanlike in our attitude.

Naturally, our fans can cheer louder and make more noise than the visitors because we have more people there, but the contest is not to see which school can make the loudest din but to determine which school has the better team. Those people, our guests, don't come here to listen to our friends yell and belittling statements. They come thinking that they will receive polite treatment and from now on that's what they are going to receive—let's it!

It never hurts anyone to be polite and it often avails much.

Duck Hill Defeated By Grenada Teams

The Grenada girls and boys basketball teams defeated the two Duck Hill teams last Thursday night at the Duck Hill gymnasium. Both games were close and undecided until the last whistle. In the boys' game, which Grenada won 20 to 10, Shep Warner was high scorer, with 11 points and Robert Murphy next with 6 points, while in the girls' contest, Josephine Payne was high scorer. Grenada won 26 to 20.

The Grenada girls line-up was as follows:

Forwards: Josephine Payne and Frances Thomas.
Guards: Juanita Smith and Jewel Rounsaville.
Centers: Thelma Thompson and Bill Lamar.

The boys line-up was:

Forwards: Shep Warner and Ernest Penn.
Guards: Robert Murphy and Paul Lockett.
Center: Cecil Hendricks.

Chapel Program

Wednesday in Chapel we were entertained by the members of the Dramatic Club who presented a comical play entitled "Not Quite Such a Goose." The parts were well played by the characters who were:

Mrs. Bell — Mary E. Colvin.
Albert, Mrs. Bell's seventeen year old son — Dick Rule.

Sylvia, Mrs. Bell's daughter — Hortense Pym.
Phillip Flick, Sylvia's beau — Claude Parks.

Hazel Henderson, Sylvia's friend — Katherine Jones.

After the play Mr. Rundle read the scripture and made a brief talk. After a prayer, also by Mr. Rundle, we were dismissed.

Students Awarded Certificates

Several students of the second year typing class have won Gregg certificates for typing. Each month the Gregg News Letters contain five minute dictation tests at different rates of speed. Any student taking these tests in shorthand and transcribing them in 45 minutes, and making a grade of ninety or above is given a transcription certificate by the Credentials Department of the Gregg Writer. It is a credit to any student's work to earn one of these certificates. To make the award even more valuable to the owner it is signed by Dr. Gregg himself.

Those winning certificates during the month of January were:
Elizabeth Turner — 60 words
Eva Mae Anthony — 60 words
Ernest Penn — 60 words
Louise Woodall — 60 words
Naomi Turner — 60 words
Ann Neely — 80 words
Vernette Wilson — 80 words
Pauline Taylor — 80 words

It is the belief of the shorthand class that we will have more students receiving certificates during the month of February than during January.

G. H. S. DIRT

Rosie has gone the way all the "good lads go"—to Grace Smith.

Since Fred has broken away from Cora's apron string, he has turned out to be Grenada's He "A-No-I" flirt.

Hi ya, Chap!

It seems to be blondes for Shep from now on.

Susan said Paul wasn't supposed to know that she liked him. Yes, we ain't supposed to know a lot of things!

Billy Sanders gave Kathryn a picture of himself. She lives on a farm where scarecrows are in dire need.

But she could find some others of us, too,—mine included.

Hortense did me a good deed, so we won't talk about her.

Lum must stay up awfully late on Sunday night. He yawns half the day Monday. Bad habit.

Clyde Horn thinks he's smart. "Get wise to yourself; better late than never" is a mixture of two good proverbs.

Water Valley Defeats Grenada

In an exciting basketball game at the Grenada gymnasium last Friday night, February 4, the boys basketball team from Water Valley defeated the Grenada quintet 26 to 19. Paul Lockett was high scorer for Grenada with 5 points while Tom Ware led the visitors' scoring with 11 points.

This game was undecided until the last whistle. At the end of the first quarter, Grenada led 6 to 4, but the Water Valley team then began hitting the basket with more regularity and led at the half 11 to 8.

For Grenada, Shep Warner, Robert Murphy, and Paul Lockett played exceptionally well, while Ware, Blackstone, and Morris played best for the visitors.

Deposits for Annuals

There are still a few annuals that have not been claimed. Those desiring an annual must make a fifty-cent deposit. As there are only a hundred annuals ordered and no more can be obtained, you had better hurry to make your deposit in order to be sure of securing an annual. Ethel Nichols, Corn Mullin, or any of the Seniors will be glad to take your deposit.

Talk By Mr. Rundle To The Business Arithmetic Class

Thursday morning, at the request of Miss Haynes, the teacher, Mr. Rundle talked to the business arithmetic class. He stated that every course in school has one or more of three values. These values are disciplinary, practical, and cultural. History and Latin and a few other subjects have cultural value. Arithmetic has a disciplinary and a practical value. He explained that disciplinary value means the value that develops thinking power.

We cannot get away from arithmetic in our daily life. Accuracy, parity, and neatness are essentials of arithmetic. "The fellow who gets anywhere is the one who solves the problem while the other fellows are sucking the end of their lead pencils." We must learn to handle figures quickly and accurately. The figure machines of today have spoiled the mathematical thinking of many people. It pays to be accurate. No business man wants a man who is not accurate. He wants his clerks to keep his books correct. We are getting mentally lazy.

To prove the above statements, Mr. Rundle tried the class on some mental problems. Mr. Rundle told of a visit to a farmer who lived near the old home of Miss Haynes. The man asked Mr. Rundle to tell him the approximate area of a field. Mr. Rundle asked the man's son, who had just returned from business college, to do it. The boy could not. This man later gave Mr. Rundle one of his sons to train for a year, but the boy remained two years. He is a successful cattle raiser now.

Mr. Rundle left the class with this closing thought: "Let's pick up the threads and be ready for life. Let's enjoy work in arithmetic."

Personalities

Some folks seem to think that there are no personalities left to write about. They seem to forget that everybody has a personality and we have something over two hundred students left to write about and then we have most of the faculty left.

But anyway, we want to introduce the most intelligent, dignified, unbelievably liar in the Sophomore class. Just gaze at him, bubbling over with enthusiastic egotism; hardly able to wait until we introduce him to start amazing, hog-tying, bamboozling you. He's the perfect model of the well dressed dude—A Beau Brunnel. I see that I've already taken one of his lines so I'll let him tell the rest. His impatience assures me that I'm none too soon in introducing to "Doc." An hour is the limit, Hill.

Football Practice Is Progressing

Spring football practice under the direction of Coach Hathorn has begun, in earnest. Many of the boys who are now going out for practice have never been out before and are learning the fundamentals of football. It is from this group of boys that next year's team will be selected.

Pictures Are Taken

Mr. Campbell came over Thursday morning and took pictures of the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes, football and basketball teams, mixed chorus, and the Girl Reserves. These pictures will be put in the annual.

Liquid Air Demonstrations By Elliott James

At Grenada High School Auditorium, 2 p. m. February 23, General Admission 10c.

To present a scientific program in a colorful, entertaining and even sensational manner, without detracting from its educational value, is the task which Elliott James assumes in his demonstrations of liquid air. He illustrates the practical uses of liquid air and demonstrates the peculiar qualities given various substances when subjected to its freezing contact.

By way of introduction, Mr. James cities liquid air as the basic product of argon, for light globes; neon, for neon signs; nitrogen, for explosives; oxygen, for welding and for the separation of helium from natural gas.

Mr. James calls attention to the fact that liquid air exists in our normal atmospheric pressure at a temperature of about 312 degrees below zero; and, using an interesting spread of laboratory equipment, he places kerosene oil in a tube and solidifies it so that it may be used as a candle. Again, with liquid air, mercury is frozen on the end of a handle and is used as a hammer to drive nails. Raw beefsteak becomes so brittle, when thus treated, that when it is struck or dropped it shatters like glass. An ordinary rubber ball, when thrown to the floor, breaks like an incandescent light bulb. Even pure alcohol is frozen.

The low boiling point of liquid air is clearly demonstrated when a small quantity of it, placed in a tea-kettle on a cake of ice, boils violently. A liquid air engine runs as a result of the vapor produced when some of the liquid air evaporates rapidly from no outside application of heat other than the ordinary room temperature.

The behavior of molecules at this exceedingly low temperature is illustrated by Mr. James when he cools a gong made of pure lead, until it rings as clearly as a gong of steel.

Not the least interesting of the experiments offered is an explanation of the machine, with its pressure coils, which is used in obtaining liquid air. Mr. James pours the liquid over his hand to illustrate the protection of what is known as "vapor film." He also takes a glassful of the liquid into his mouth. Other entertaining demonstrations are introduced, and there is a sensational finish when certain chemicals are plunged into liquid oxygen, producing a fiery flash.

In the course of his demonstrations, Mr. James calls attention to the fact that Muscle Shoals, elected for the purpose of extracting nitrogen from the air, is probably the largest liquefaction plant in the world. Hundreds of smaller units are scattered over the country, devoted to the production of oxygen gas for welding.

The entire program is generously spiced with humor, and the audience is kept on edge by a series of thrilling surprises.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

President L. A. Downs of The I. C. Makes Address on "Life Looks At The College"

Greencastle, Ind., Feb. 5.—Education for business was the theme of an address by L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central System, in a symposium today at DePauw University on the subject of "Life Looks At The College". Mr. Downs is a native of Greencastle, a former student of DePauw and an engineering graduate of Purdue University.

"I do not believe that liberal arts college has any obligation to provide vocational training for business," Mr. Downs said. "The field of business is too broad for that. However, it does have a very definite responsibility to business for the training it gives its students. Many of them enter business without other advance preparation, and all of them must live in a world in which business is the moving force. Whether they engage in business or merely live in a business world, they need to have a sound comprehension of business in order to adjust themselves to their environment and utilize their talents most effectively. In addition, they become part of the electorate, which exercises increasing control over business, and they need a sound comprehension of it in order to exercise such control wisely for the good of themselves and their fellow citizens."

"My conception of a liberal education is the development and expansion of native intelligence. It has for its major purpose to enable a person so to adapt himself to environment and so to utilize his talents in a practical world that he may adequately provide for himself and his family in a material way and in so doing may achieve the greatest possible happiness, and that he may at the same time make the largest possible contribution to society. You will start your students on the right road toward success and happiness if you make them aware that business is subject to human weaknesses and shortcomings and by no means perfect, but that it is also capable of magnificent dreams, lofty ideals, perseverance and courage in the march of mankind toward a better day."

"In this day of great corporate organizations and vast aggregations of production machinery, it is easy to fall into the error of thinking of the world in terms of things instead of people. The Illinois Central System represents an investment in property of something like three-quarters of a billion dollars. Yet, without men and their skill in operating it, all the machinery we use to move freight and passengers is just machinery. Such things are merely tools that help men to do their work, and they are utterly useless without the minds and heads of the thousands of men and women whose lives go into the railroad to make it a vital and living force."

Where Money Goes

Railroads are ready spenders. Every dollar received is immediately put into circulation.

More than one-half of the spending is on payrolls. This gives useful employment to a million workers.

Another large part is spent on purchases. This goes to producers and distributors of some 70,000 different articles.

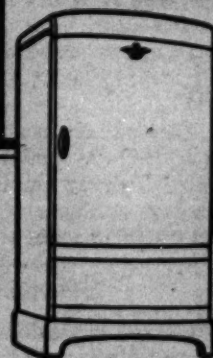

Then there are taxes. This spending is for such things as schools and highways and police protection.

Interest is another item. This spending goes to a million investors, including insurance companies and endowed institutions.

All this spending helps business, adds to employment, increases the security of American people.

Valentine Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. E. L. Boteler and Mrs. H. D. Lane, Saturday afternoon, February 12th, entertained with a Valentine Miscellaneous Shower, complimenting Mrs. B. F. Coates, Jr. The lovely home of Mrs. Boteler was most attractive with its profusion of Spring flowers, in the dining room, the table was covered with a lace cloth, with a center piece of red carnations, the Valentine colors.

On arrival the guests were served a delicious salad plate, in colors of red and white carrying out the Valentine motif, after which the bride was presented with a Valentine by each of the guests, conveying thoughts of the future. A loud knock at the door announced the arrival of a telegram for Mrs. Coates, telling of hidden treasure for her, the treasure was a large white basket tied with red ribbon, and contained many lovely and useful gifts.

Good wishes were written by the guests in the Bride's Book, brought to a close this most enjoyable occasion.

Grenada Garden Club

Mrs. Gene Marders was a charming hostess this week when she entertained the Grenada Garden Club, of which she is a member, in her lovely home on Union Street. Early garden flowers artistically arranged, contributed their beauty to the attractiveness of the occasion.

Minutes from the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. E. R. Proudfit, and the various committees gave detailed reports of their activities. New year books were distributed to those present and those who were not present are requested to get their from Mrs. Sam Simmons.

The roll call was answered with new flowers of 1937. Mrs. T. B. Revell gave an interesting paper, "Tested Yearlings of 1937." Valuable information was derived from "A Part of Cold Frame Planting," which was given by Mrs. E. R. Henderson. A round table discussion was held at the end of the meeting.

Civic League Benefit Party

On Wednesday afternoon of this week the Community House was the scene of one of the most attractive parties of the season when the Civic League entertained with a twenty-four table benefit bridge and ruck party to raise funds with which to beautify the grounds of the Community House. Red japonica, artistically arranged in vases and baskets, were used profusely, lending their beauty to the effectiveness of the Valentine motif which was used exclusively.

Before the games a party plate of two kinds of tempting sandwiches, red mints and hot tea was served the guests.

During the afternoon the traveling potted plants furnished much excitement and pleasure for everyone.

The finance committee of the League considers their party a big success and look forward to beautifying the Community House grounds.

KUDZU PLANTS WILL GO TO FARMERS THIS WINTER

State College, Miss., Feb. 16—Mississippi farmers in erosion control areas this winter will plant approximately 4,250,000 trees, 948,400 kudzu plants, and nearly a half-million shrubs, according to C. B. Anders, state coordinator of the Soil Conservation Service.

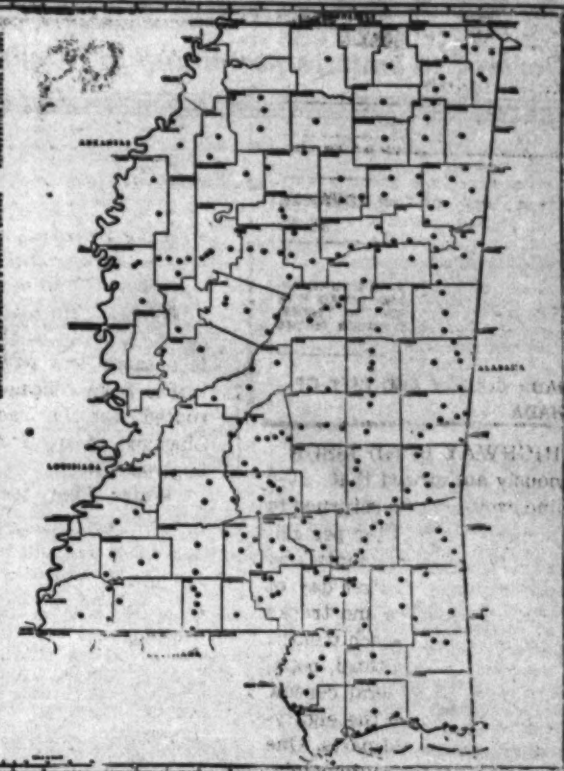

The trees, plants, and shrubs are being shipped as needed to the six demonstration projects and 11 OOC camp areas assigned to the Soil Conservation Service in Mississippi. They were produced in Service nurseries in Mississippi and other Southeastern States as a part of the OOC camp program.

Cooperating farmers in demonstration projects and camp areas will plant the trees on severely eroded portions of their farms to show how trees will check erosion and put such land to its best use. They will plant the shrubs in gullies and on galled areas, and along field and woodland borders to put useless land to work producing food and cover for wildlife.

Farmers will use the kudzu plants to form permanent strips on critical areas in cultivated fields, in gullies, on galled spots, on road banks and other locations where perennial vegetation is needed to prevent excessive soil loss. Kudzu is a fast growing vine that has been found effective in controlling erosion and for hay production.

Railroad Purchases in Mississippi

This map is one of a set of state maps recently presented to the U. S. S. C. by the committee investigating unemployment and relief by J. J. Pelley, President, Association of American Railroads, Washington, D. C. Each spot indicates a city or town where one or more railroads purchase materials and supplies. In Mississippi the railroads purchased materials and supplies in 247 cities and towns located in 74 of the 82 counties in the state.

TRAILER DEPARTMENT

Office of District Supervisor, Alcohol Tax Unit, Bureau of Internal Revenue, New Orleans, Louisiana, February 18, 1938. Notice is hereby given that on February 11, 1938, one 1933 Chevrolet Coupe, Motor No. 3704804, with accessories, was seized in Montgomery County, Mississippi, for violation of the Internal Revenue Laws, to-wit: Section 3450, United States Revised Statutes. Any person claiming an interest in said property must appear at the office of Investigator in Charge, Alcohol Tax Unit, 1002 Deposit Guaranty Bank Building, Jackson, Mississippi, and file claim and cost bond as provided by Section 3460, United States Revised Statutes, on or before March 21, 1938; otherwise the property will be disposed of according to law. In The Castles

Let me live in the castles,
Away from the world and its gold;
For earth, with all of its glamour,
Is bitter and cold.

Let me live in the castles,
Where the windows are tinted with rose;
Where the soul may bask in sweet
lyrics,
Nor succumb to dull prose.

Let me wander the pathways,
Where dreams of childhood are stored;
Where rainbows of light, happy
fancy,
Eclipse the world and its horde.

The castles belong to the poets,
To dreamers, who live in the land
of make-believe,
Tis not for all of earth's mortals
To enter their portals,
For the castles are magic and hard to achieve.

Note: Around us, the political guns are belching fire and thunder.
The master-pens are flooding the high-ways and by-ways with veritable streams of molten lava;
yet perchance there are still a FEW, who will turn aside for a simple line of verse.

We thoroughly enjoyed Mr.
Boushe's article on "Old Time Religion," in a recent issue of The Sentinel. It was entitled "Old Providence," and was well worth reading.

Evidently Mr. Boushe follows
somewhat Robert Browning's philosophy of life. For now with his youth somewhat in the distance, he pleasantly paddles his canoe in the streams of his choice, no in the streams to be literally saturated with potent scribbles.

Since the City Beautiful has achieved THREE newspapers, there is an open port for everyone! We should call this period in Grenada's history, "The reign of the great triumvirate!"

With Pompey down on Beale,
And Caesar up the alley,
Its all Octavius can do,
To make his columns tally!

Yes, as the "Immortalized
Greenfield" has said, "Grenada
now ranks along with Chicago,
London and New York!"

The W. M. U. met last Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. M. O. Gray and Mrs. Carmack Merritt for the purpose of rendering the February program. Ten members were present. Topic for the month, "The Homeland." The president, Mrs. W. H. Carter, called the house to order by singing, "Bringing in the Sheaves." Scripture reading, "Abraham as an Example"—Gen. 12:1-9, by Mrs. W. H. Carter. Prayer by Mrs. M. O. Gray. "The Homeland Fifty Years Ago," by Mrs. Harvey Clark. Home Mission Beginning by Mrs. Carmack Merritt. "A Heart of Gold," by Mrs. Carl Boland. "The Homeland Today," by Mrs. Annebel Clark. "Home Missions Saving the Homeland," by Mrs. T. S. Smith. "A Blessed Ally," by Mrs. M. O. Gray. "Reaping With Joy," by Mrs. Jim Gullledge. The provision the dismissing prayer was given out by Mrs. Gullledge after which the dismissing prayer was offered by the President, Mrs. W. H. Carter. We will meet the 28th of February for the week of prayer at Mrs. Annie Schmitts at 9 o'clock. Everyone bring a dish and spend the day.

Mrs. Nannie Burke spent Monday afternoon of last week with Mrs. M. O. Gray and Mrs. L. C. Merritt.

We are sorry to learn that Miss Mildred Clark is on the sick list again. Hope she will soon be OK.

Miss Grace Merritt is visiting her sister, Mrs. Gorman Merritt this week. Mrs. Merritt's health being bad.

Mr. Waddell will soon have his house completed on Mr. Carmack Merritt's place.

Mr. Lewis Liles has moved in the home that Mr. Vick occupied last year on Mrs. C. L. Clark's place.

THE STATUS OF OUR HIGHWAY BOND ISSUE

The legislature has previously authorized that 2 1/4¢ per gallon of the state gasoline excise tax be returned to the counties. The amount produced by the 2 1/4¢ per gallon is paid to the depositories of the various counties by the Motor Vehicle Commissioner, on the first day of each month, on a basis of first, automobiles and trucks registered in each county on the first day of each month; second, area of the county in square miles; third, population of the county based on the last federal census. The total amount subject to distribution to the eighty-two counties is first divided into three equal parts. One of the parts so obtained by the number of automobiles and trucks registered in the state-at-large on the first day of any given month, thereby obtaining an amount to be distributed per vehicle and the unit per vehicle is then multiplied by the number of vehicles registered in a given county on the same date, producing that particular county's share of the tax on a basis of vehicle registration. The same process is applied to the one-third division of the total amount produced by the 2 1/4¢ per gallon, except area in square miles is used as the factor. Likewise, the same procedure is used on the remaining one-third of the total amount produced by the 2 1/4¢ per gallon, except population is the distributing factor. The sum of the three amounts obtained by calculation, as above, represents each county's share of gasoline tax collections.

Beginning in 1935 Grenada county has been paid, as its share of the amount produced by 2 1/4¢ per gallon, as follows: 1935, $27,414.39; 1936, $32,379.12; 1937, $37,149.38. The increase in payments to Grenada county, 1935-1937 were: 1936 over 1935, $4,964.73; 1937 over 1936, $4,770.26; 1937 over 1935, $9,734.99.

The amount returned to counties is earmarked for road and bridge bonds and interest, construction and maintenance, and is expended under direction of the Boards of Supervisors, with certain specifications as to the application of funds according to bonded indebtedness for roads and bridges. Under the law, no part of the amount returned to the counties can be used for any purpose except roads and bridges. Likewise, the state's part of the gasoline tax can be used for road purposes only.

Gasoline tax collections in Mississippi for the period 1933 through 1937 were: 1933, $6,657,570.69; 1934, $7,485,847.81; 1935, $8,368,277.22; 1936, $9,557,052.34; 1937, $10,820,275.84. Amounts allocated to State Highway Department were: 1933, $2,794,298.14; 1934, $3,392,263.24; 1935, $4,156,246.10; 1936, $3,064,323.26; 1937, $3,449,925.41. Amount allocated to State Highway Note Sinking Fund: 1933, 1934 and 1935, none; 1936, $1,954,765.64; 1937, $2,254,224.15. Amounts allocated to counties were: 1935, $3,117,473.71; 1936, $3,751,849.37; 1937, $4,267,220.57.

The fact that the legislature pledged the entire proceeds of all gasoline taxes now imposed or collected by the state, to the extent that such proceeds may be necessary for the prompt payment of principal and interest of the recent $60,000,000 Highway Bonds does not necessarily mean that the counties are going to be deprived of the portion of the gasoline tax that they are now being paid. If gasoline tax collections hold their present level, which is anticipated, and with the increase in traffic, which will naturally follow with good roads, collections will increase annually and there will be no necessity of diverting any part of the tax now being paid to the counties for the payment of interest and principal on these bonds.

Based on gasoline tax collections for 1937 it is estimated that it will require 2-3/10¢ of the 3 1/4¢ per gallon allocated to the highway department to pay principal and interest on the sixty-million dollar bond issue. 2-3/10¢ per gallon, based on present collections, will produce $4,140,000 annually for the Highway Note Sinking Fund. This will leave $2,160,000 ($634,298.14 less than in 1933) to be used by the Highway Department for maintenance of our highways and bridges.

The amount left to the Highway Department should be sufficient in view of the fact that we now have many more miles of paved roads than we had in 1933, and maintenance of paved roads is much less than that of gravelled roads.

THE PUBLIC GRAB BAG

"As the economic functions of the Federal government have increased, it has become increasingly clear that our Congressmen are primarily agents of their districts and their state, seeking to get what they can for their constituents almost without regard to the national welfare."—A. Parker Bates, in Readers' Digest.

GOOD NEWS, IF TRUE

Recent Federal Reserve Board statements indicate a halt in the business recession. It is encouraging, but not wholly convincing.

HIGHWAY NO. 7 SHOULD BE IN NEW CONSTRUCTION GROUP.

Highway 7 is one of the most important roads in our state highway system and should be included in the new construction group now under consideration by the legislature. The people of Yalobusha and Lafayette counties are entitled to have this road paved. It will mean much to them and also to Grenada. It will provide a hook-up of the entire highway system of Mississippi with the Broadway of America, at Jackson, Tennessee.

Tennessee has nearly completed a new airline highway (No. 18) from the Mississippi-Tennessee state line to Bolivar, Tennessee and the same highway from Bolivar to Jackson was completed several months ago. If Mississippi will pave this road the major part of the traffic from Chicago and other northern points will be routed over No. 7 as it is from 40 to 60 miles nearer to Chicago from Grenada than by way of Memphis and Highway 51.

Water Valley staged a "Rally Day" on November 24, last, for the primary purpose of stirring up interest in obtaining the completion of this highway. The people of Water Valley, Oxford and Holly Springs are enthusiastic and have been working. What about the people of Grenada?

Mr. W. B. Hoffa has been working, as attested by the following letter which he received from F. A. Davis, Senior Highway Engineer, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads:

P. O. Box 1531, Jackson, Miss., Feb. 9, 1938.

Mr. W. B. Hoffa,
Grenada, Miss.

My dear Mr. Hoffa:

Replying to your request of this date, I would advise that the road from Grenada via Oxford and Holly Springs to the Mississippi-Tennessee State line near Michigan City is eligible for construction with Federal Aid Funds supplemented by State funds, at least equal in amount to Federal Funds used.

Upon application of the State Highway Department, this road is regarded as eligible for participation of Federal Funds under the new program, provided the State Legislative Act does not prevent spending funds on this road.

Yours very truly,

F. A. DAVIS, Senior Highway Engineer.

If this is not an important road the federal government would not include it among those roads entitled to Federal Aid Funds.

Our civic bodies should perfect an association to work for this specific improvement in an effective manner.

THE GRENADA BAND RECEIVES HONORABLE RECOGNITION.

The Grenada Band has received one of the highest distinctions which can come to a school band in that thirteen of its members received honorable recognition from the National Band and Orchestra Honor Society.

This society was conceived with the idea of recognizing outstanding members of the better bands in the nation and is a national organization for students in the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades.

The boys who have gained this coveted place are as follows: Shep Warner, Frank York, Walter Giffey, Barney Echols, Joe Thomas, Duvall Proudft, Clifford Bailey, Posey Gant, Robert Dickson, Paul Lockett, Bobby Sharp, Charlie Calloway, and Clyde Horn.

The Sentinel congratulates the band, director Roger Dollarhide and the Band Mothers.

WELL INVESTED TAX DOLLARS.

A statement prepared by Director T. H. MacDonald of the United States Bureau of Public Roads shows how $1,000 is distributed when the money is spent for concrete highways. Of the above amount $910 eventually goes for labor, spread over various items that Director MacDonald's table shows in detail. It includes getting on the job, payrolls, labor in the mills and quarries, handling freight, fuel, materials, supplies, replacing depletion, and a wide variety of expenditures.

Representative Mason of Illinois, told Congress a few days ago that state highway departments have been able to keep more men employed in PWA construction than in any other way. He read a statement into the Congressional Record by Associate Highway Engineer C. F. Rogers of the Bureau of Public Roads in part as follows:

"An annual highway expenditure of $100,000,000 results in an average annual employment on the highway work and in industry of approximately 102,690 persons continuously employed for 12 months at an average annual cost of approximately $970 per person employed. An annual highway expenditure of $100,000,000 initiates a movement which eventually involves, in the handling and processing of materials by industry a total of business transacted of approximately $315,000,000.

"In addition to afford economic and unemployment relief, highway construction eventually provides a connected highway system which is a distinct national asset, promoting agricultural and industrial expansion and fostering social values."

LICENSING CORPORATIONS

Interest in Washington turns towards the attempt to secure legislation to license corporations. An examination of the bill sponsored by Senators O'Mahoney and Borah furnishes surprises inasmuch as it includes about all the rules and regulations of the old NRA as the way the corporations will have to conduct themselves to hold their licenses. It might be observed that if a corporation was held in check to obey present laws that it would be kept pretty busy.

FIGHT FOR BETTER COTTON PRICES

(Carried over from last week)

If cotton farmers wait till next fall to fight for better prices, it will be too late. They should start fighting now, as The Progressive Farmer effectively points out in a strong editorial in the current issue. We quote in part:

"The farm bill now pending in Congress provides the 'usual' benefits for cooperating cotton growers. But 'usual' benefits will not meet this unusual situation, in fact this unprecedented situation. If the South as a section and Southern farmers as individuals are to have decent purchasing power next fall the government must allow 2 cents a pound extra on cotton, if this necessitates a processing tax. And our cotton farmers have powerful friends in Washington who are all ready and willing to fight for us—if we will first show our own interest and concern.

"Cotton is now selling at about 8 cents a pound. The price necessary to give a pound of cotton the same buying power it had in the prewar period is 16.4 cents. And even in this prewar period the labor used in producing cotton was not so well paid as the average labor in the United States.

"It is high time to wake up all Southern farmers to the situation that faces us. With an 18-million-bale crop we can fare pretty well with a spot price of 8 cents plus the usual farm bill benefits. But with the 1938 crop cut to an expected 10-million bales (which is properly the present plan) we must have an extra 2 cents a pound next fall. We must cut the crop to about 10 million bales or the carry-over will become more burdensome and price-depressing. But unless we can get the extra 2 cents a pound the total income from a 10 million bale crop will be dangerously low.

"Let this fact also be emphasized: If the condition of the federal treasury is such that manufacturers must pay a processing tax on cotton they use in order to provide this extra 2 cents a pound, then a processing tax will be fully justified. For even with 8-cent spot prices plus usual farm bill benefits and 2 cents added from a processing tax, manufacturers and consumers will not be paying high prices for cotton. They will not even be paying average prices. Furthermore, to protect poorer consumers the processing tax can be made lower on rough cotton goods, such as overalls, etc. and higher on expensive goods and still give a general average that will net growers the extra 2 cents a pound.

"Southern merchants, business men, and professional men all have their interests tied up with cotton farmers in this matter. Ask them to help you. Ask farm organizations to act. Start petitions, resolutions, letters to Congressmen and Senators in Washington.

"Fair prices for cotton cannot be insured next fall if we wait till next fall to face the facts. We must act now if we are to prosper then."

ON OUR WAY!!!

Many persons have been led to believe that the Federal government trimmed expenditures during the past year. Such is decidedly not the case. Expenditures have risen steadily (exclusive of the Veterans' bonus in 1936) for the past nine years. Of late, government revenues leaped to record levels, managed to narrow the deficit margin and thus create a financial illusion that is dangerously misleading; for normally, smaller deficits would indicate actual economy.

Take for instance the regular operating expenditures of the Federal government, which include legislative, judicial and civil establishments. They rose from $637,000,000 in 1933 to $814,000,000 in 1937. Likewise consider for a moment Public Works, which includes such items as public highways, reclamation, flood control, public buildings, etc. This rose without halt from $458,000,000 in 1933 to over $1,000,000,000 in 1937.

And there is a popular belief that relief spending was recently rigidly curtailed. Yet official financial statements show that from 1933 to 1937, expenditures for unemployment relief, which include direct relief, work relief and the Civilian Conservation Corps, also rose without halt from $359,000,000 to $2,466,000,000.

If you do not believe these figures, take a look at the total estimated Federal debt for the end of fiscal 1939—$38,528,000,000. Compare this to the total debt in 1931—$16,801,000,000. It takes no mathematical genius to see where the country is headed. And at the rate we are going it won't take long to get there!

DON'T DRIVE IMPULSIVELY

"A light foot and a gentle hand should be the slogan of all motorists," according to Charles A. Chayne, safety expert, who adds: "Don't be impulsive covers all driving conditions summer and winter. You can crack up on a dry pavement with perfect driving as quickly as on a wet or icy road under bad conditions if you are not doing the right thing. A motorist need remember only one fundamental rule, and that is: Don't do anything jerkily. This rule applies to steering the car and to increasing or decreasing its speed. Don't take your foot off the accelerator suddenly. It is the same as applying brakes to the rear wheels and may cause a skid. Avoid it by slowly releasing your accelerator pedal. Don't slam on your brakes, especially on icy or wet pavements. Anticipate your stops and take it easy and you won't come to grief.

"Don't start up in low gear on ice. With the tremendous power of today's automobiles you can apply so much power to the rear wheels in low gear that they can be made to spin on dry gravel or concrete pavement. In low gear, it is almost impossible to operate the accelerator delicately enough to prevent the wheels from spinning on ice. Therefore, always start up in second or high gear on slippery roads to keep your car under control."

88 Out Of 100 Insured Motorists

Eighty-eight out of 100 insured motorists in 37 of the 107 rating territories where the Safe Driver Reward Plan is now operating, it is calculated; will pay net liability premiums lower than those previously in effect although rates, based on accident and loss experience, went up February 1 in nearly half the territories. Rates were lowered or unchanged in the rest of the territories.

This is shown in a survey of new basic liability rates issued by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters in conjunction with the Safe Driver Reward Plan. This new program was instituted February 1 in 27 states and the District of Columbia by 32 stock companies members of the Bureau and provides a return of 15 percent of the premium if no losses occur under the policy within a year from the date it is effective.

The Bureau pointed out that whether it was higher, unchanged or lower, an addition of 4.8 percent had been made to the base rate in each territory which, while it appears to be an arbitrary increase over the level indicated by accident and loss experience alone, actually is a charge upon the driver who has accidents that produce losses so that the safe driver can be given a substantial reduction in insurance cost.

"The Safe Driver Reward returns 4.8 percent to the safe driver and gives him an additional saving of approximately 11 percent that would not be possible otherwise," said William Leslie, manager of the National Bureau. "Our figures show that 88 percent of our insured motorists are no-accident drivers and will get this saving."

Once each year the Bureau revises rates on a basis of accident experience in the 300 territories into which the country is divided for this purpose. Determined by cost, size, horsepower, etc., cars are placed in one of three classifications for rating. The great majority of insured cars are of the low- and medium-priced type and rate on each is either the same or different only by a dollar or so. These base rates apply to the standard $5,000-$10,000 bodily injury and $5,000 property damage policy.

Typical areas in which the rate went up, was unchanged and was lowered were cited as examples of how the reward plan works. In Salt Lake City the premium prior to February 1 was $33 for the standard policy on the low-priced type car. The new premium is $37. Based on experience alone and minus the factor of 4.8 percent, the premium would be approximately $35.30. The motorist who earns the 15 percent reward, however, will receive $5.55, making his net premium $31.45. This is $1.55 less than the old premium while the driver whose accidents produce losses pays the entire new premium of $37.

In Omaha, Nebraska, the premium remains unchanged, at $42. On the basis of experience alone, and minus the factor of 4.8 percent, the premium would be approximately $40.10. The 15 percent reward, however, is $6.80, making the net premium for the fare driver $33.70, which is $4.40 lower than it could have been otherwise.

The premium in St. Louis prior to February 1 was $62 and is now $57. Minus the factor of 4.8 percent, it would have dropped to $54.40. The safe driver's 15 percent reward will be $5.55, making the net premium $48.45 and affording a much more substantial reduction than possible on a basis of experience alone.

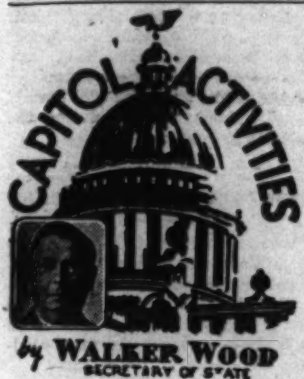

"This method of penalizing motorists who have accidents that result in losses and rewarding those who take the time and caution to drive safely has advocated for some time by motor vehicle commissioners, safety officials and others," said Mr. Leslie. "We hope that even more than the 88 percent of our insured motorists expected to win the reward will do so. In that event rates can be made even lower than is now possible under this plan."

Of the 107 territories rates were increased in 46, lowered in 31 and unchanged in 30.

Reductions were widespread in three states. Rates went down in 12 of 18 New Jersey territories; six out of seven in Tennessee and four out of five in Maryland. They were unchanged in Arkansas, Montana, Nevada and Nebraska.

The plan is now operating in Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming and the District of Columbia. Since February 1 the plan has been suspended in Minnesota and Kentucky, pending further discussion with state authorities.

Another busy week of the Legislature is in progress at the new Capitol, and both Houses are exceedingly active in disposing of the business of the session. As usual, we are giving you in this article some of the more important House and Senate Bills introduced, and further on, a resume of some of the general bills that have already become laws, by the approval of the Governor.

H. B. 423, is an act to amend Section 11 of Chapter 147 of the Laws of 1934, so as to provide for the employment of two physicians for the State Penitentiary.

H. B. 426, would provide assistance to needy blind residents of the State of Mississippi; to provide for the manner of administering same.

H. B. 433, seeks to amend Section 1 of Chapter 162 of the Laws of 1936, providing that the Motor Vehicle Commissioner shall be elected from the time of the expiration of the term of the present commissioner, and each four years thereafter at the same time and in the same manner that the Governor is elected.

H. B. 434, is an act to amend Section 2, of Chapter 126, Laws of 1934, so as to reduce the privilege tax on motor vehicles.

H. B. 436, seeks to encourage the prevention of soil erosion in the State of Mississippi, to provide means to assist land owners in such work, and to promote cooperation with the Federal Government therein.

H. B. 449 is an act to empower and authorize trustees of any common school district, consolidated school district, or separate school district to lease land for oil, gas, and mineral exploration and development.

H. B. 454 would declare the necessity of creating governmental sub-divisions of the state, to be known as "Soil Conservation Districts;" to engage in conserving soil resources and preventing and controlling soil erosion; to establish the State Soil Conservation Committee; and to define its powers and duties.

H. B. 461 is an act providing education opportunities for the children of soldiers, sailors, and marines who were killed in action or died during the World War.

H. B. 463 seeks to amend Chapter 174 of the Acts of 1932 amending Section 2069, Code of 1930, limiting the number of Justices of the Peace to one in the district elected from each of the five supervisors districts of the county, and a district in which there is a municipality, with a population of forty-five hundred or more, according to the United States Census of 1930, two Justices of the Peace.

H. B. 464 is an Act to amend Section 2423 of the Code of 1930, so as to change the time that municipalities may grant tax exemption to manufacturers from ten years to five years.

H. B. 469 is an act to amend Code Section 1419 so as to provide that the Chancery Court may hear evidence in divorce proceedings in private chambers adjacent to the court room.

H. B. 474 is an act to amend Code Section 1966, so as to provide that open, continuous and no torious violation or violations of any criminal law of the state by any person or group of persons shall be deemed prima facie evidence that the sheriff of the county in which such violations occur is guilty of refusal to perform his official duties.

H. C. R. No. 26 is a Concurrent Resolution proposing an amendment to Section 33, of the Constitution of Mississippi, providing for the Initiative, Referendum and Recall.

H. B. 486 is an act to establish a state highway police; to prescribe their duties; and to provide for their compensation.

H. B. 498 would amend Code Section 2007, so as to provide that when a place where intoxicating liquor is kept or possessed has been abated as a common nuisance the court may require the person keeping or possessing such liquor to enter into a good and sufficient bond conditioned that the obligor will not violate the prohibition laws of the State for a period not exceeding two years.

S. B. 297 is an act to amend Chapter 126 of the Laws of 1934 so as to "reduce automobile privilege tax fifty percent; to prohibit the collection of privilege tax on trailers used exclusively for agricultural and farming purposes; to certify that school buses are not required to purchase two license tags and to increase the bus license tax approximately forty percent.

S. B. 298 is an act to restore and preserve the credit of counties and municipalities by authorized Boards of Supervisors and municipal authorities to pay outstanding indebtedness.

S. B. 300 would provide for free text-books for the use of pupils in public schools in certain grades in the State of Mississippi and to provide for the administration of same.

S. C. R. No. 22 is a Concurrent Resolution to amend Section 170 of the Constitution of the State of Mississippi so as to provide an alternative method of county government.

S. B. 306 would authorize the state treasurer to call and pay outstanding highway road notes as soon as the Governor signs new road financing bill, and this bill has been signed.

S. B. 307 requests the state highway commission to submit plans for a $45,000.00 road program and draw survey for road plans.

S. B. 301 would prevent action against receiver of state bank after one year from entry of final decree.

S. B. 304 would seek to aid dependent children through state department of public welfare.

The Automobile Safety Foundation of New York City has recently issued a statement showing the status of automobile accidents and fatalities in 1937 as compared to 1936. This is of interest to Mississippi, inasmuch as it shows that twenty states of the Union reduced fatalities last year from 18 per cent to 1 per cent, over 1936, and Mississippi stood at the top of the list in the percentage of these reductions. Mississippi's deduction was 18 per cent, and the next highest state was Kansas with 14 per cent, while the balance of the twenty states ranged from those figures on down to 1 per cent which state was Idaho. Over the entire nation there were 39,700 traffic fatalities in 1937—a 4 per cent increase over 1936, but with 9 per cent in travel and 5 per cent increase in vehicle registrations.

E. H. White, director of extension of Mississippi, issues a statement of optimistic value to the State, in reviewing farm progress for the past year. Mr. White states that farm crops of 1937 were worth $135,000.00 more than for the year 1932, and while not quite up to 1936, in cash returns, that farmers have learned in recent years to lay up amply for winter supplies and thus the total value of all crops, sold and retained, might have balanced off with the year previous—that of 1936—which was a bumper crop value year.

Among other general acts of importance of this session of the legislature that has been approved by the Governor, and thus have become laws of the state, are:

H. B. 288 regulating the pay of members of the Board of Education in certain counties of the State.

H. B. 223 amends former laws, so as to provide a remedy for distribution of funds between two or more counties.

H. B. 130 authorizes the county superintendent of education of the various counties to waive the lien for rent of agricultural products grown on 16th Section lands for the years 1938 and 1939.

S. B. 85 amends former laws so as to provide for the time of holding circuit courts in the eighth circuit district.

H. B. 287 is the 60-million dollars highway bill, and by its provisions creates a state bond commission with powers and duties of issuing, selling and delivering highway bonds as necessary and providing for the payment thereof and further authorizing cooperation with the Federal Government in the construction and improvement of highways in Mississippi. This bill was signed by the Governor on Tuesday of this week, and it is now a law.

At a banquet held at a local hotel Tuesday evening, Governor White stated that he would request Washington for Federal supervision to be given to the carrying out of the new program of highway construction provided for in this bill and expressed a belief that he had worked out a plan by which this supervision would be secured.

Giving ill-health as a reason for his action, State Senator J. M. Cooper of the 20th Senatorial District, tendered his resignation as a Senator to Governor White last week. His successor will be elected on February 19th.

Washington, D. D., Feb. 20—Here and there amid the mass of buildings which make up the home of the government of the United States, a few elderly cynics are chuckling as they watch the steady stream of millions being poured out for a New Navy. They remember 1921 when we so magnanimously scrapped more than a dozen of the biggest and finest ships the world had ever seen. Not all of the scrapped ships were built—some were in process of building.

When that idealistic aberration known as the Washington Conference of 1921 was over we had scrapped eight hundred thousand tons of ships—actual ships which had already cost us millions of dollars. Great Britain and Japan scrapped a great many blue prints and a few war-battered hulks. The amused cynics point out that to have completed that fleet and kept it in commission all these years would not have been as costly as our present program of frantic construction.

And they also point out that there would have been no need for Naval limitation treaties and there would have been no Naval building race for the simple reason that no other power expects us to wage a war of aggression. And no power would have been able to engage in a building race because any country attempting such a procedure would have bankrupted itself.

The recent testimony of high Naval officials before congressional committees has made a favorable impression on the legislators as well as the country at large. Putting the situation before the public this way has served to drown out, temporarily at least, three classes of critics: The advocates of entire dependence on airplanes, the coast defenders and the pacifists.

The severe testing of the effectiveness of planes in China and in Spain has made it apparent that air fighters are still merely an adjunct of the land and sea forces and not really a third and equally important arm of defense or offense.

The figures offered show how much cheaper it is to have an effective and Mobile fleet ready to defend the coast than to arm and Garrison all possible landing places on the coast.

Whether we have ships or not it is certain that the country does not lack Naval strategists, for nearly every member of congress, most of the senators and even the page boys of the two houses are willing on occasion to tell any and all listeners exactly how the fleet should be handled and they are completely confident in the great American tradition which William Jennings Bryan so eloquently expounded when he declared "a million men could spring to arms over night."

At a banquet held at a local hotel Tuesday evening, Governor White stated that he would request Washington for Federal supervision to be given to the carrying out of the new program of highway construction provided for in this bill and expressed a belief that he had worked out a plan by which this supervision would be secured.

The Gore Springs H. D. Club Meets

The Gore Springs Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, February 9th in the club room. Misses Modena and Orena Davis of Graysport, favored the members with two vocal duets, "My Buddy" and "That Silver Haired Daddy of Mine."

Mrs. T. P. Haile was appointed secretary for the year. Miss Wood gave a report of the January County Council meeting. She then displayed articles of fancy work and gave out patterns. Floor places of their homes were drawn by the ladies and turned in to Miss Woods for suggestions of ground beautification.

Each member was requested to write an article "What My Club Work Means to Me" and bring to the March meeting. A valuable

.. Grenada County Farm Page ..

Devoted to matters pertaining to farming, buying and selling farm products, and recipes for housewives.

(Week Ending February 12)
(By Congressman A. L. Ford)

The following article is an explanation of the Farm Bill of 1938. On Tuesday, February 8, the House began consideration of the 1938 Farm Bill in its final form. A special rule was speedily passed by which the House agreed to limit debate on the measure to four hours. On Wednesday, the vote on final approval was 263 to 135. Legislation is attempted for cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, and rice. On Thursday, in the Senate, the anti-lynching bill was laid aside for a second time, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Farm Bill in final form, this form being technically known as a "conference report." On Friday, the Senate refused to send the bill back to the Conference Committee. There was a seventeen vote margin in behalf of continuing consideration. Late Friday, the bill ran into stormy opposition from Senator Bailey of North Carolina, and others, who complained that its compulsory features were unconstitutional. It was finally agreed that the Senate would vote on final passage not later than 3:30 p. m. Monday, February 14.

In the meantime, this column intends to give a brief analysis of the provisions of the bill, as, in all likelihood, it will have been passed by the Senate and signed by the President before this rees print. Since the people of my District do not produce wheat, tobacco, or rice, no explanation of the 121 page bill will be undertaken as to those commodities.

As to cotton, a compulsory program is provided, but 2/3 of the farmers will have to vote for it before the compulsion can be applied. The Department of Agriculture will have to hold a referendum and allow the farmers to vote by secret ballot on the question of compulsory control. If 2/3 of the farmers vote for a compulsory program, then it is estimated that the yearly quota in the United States for cotton will be between ten and twelve million bales. This quota will be divided among the States on a bales basis, each state being given a quota of so many bales. The bales quota will then be assigned within the state on an acreage basis. Each county will be given an acreage calculated upon acreage planted to cotton during the five preceding calendar years plus the acres diverted from cotton since 1935, with adjustments being made for abnormal weather conditions and trends in acreage during that five year period. Any farmer not raising more than two bales of cotton, regardless of acres allotted to him, can sell it free of penalty. Every farm in the county which has planted cotton during any of the three preceding years will be granted a quota of at least five acres. These last two provisions are made to take care of the small farmer.

After these specific allotments are made within the county, then the remainder of the total amount of acres available to the county will be uniform in the same county or administrative area, based on the tillable acres of each farm. This puts the 1938 bill on a broad TILLABLE ACREAGE BASIS, getting away from the old base acreage theory, which in some instances resulted in injustice to the small farmer.

In any year when the cotton supply amounts to 19,500,000 bales, the Secretary of Agriculture is required to make proclamation of the fact, after which the referendum is held. If a referendum is held in 1938 it will have to be with in 30 days after the enactment of the bill.

The farmer can sell all the cotton he produces on the acreage within his quota. If he plants more acres in cotton than his quota allows, then the marketing penalty is set at two cents per pound in 1938, three cents in all future years, on all cotton produced on acres in excess of his quota. In addition to these penalties, he will not be paid any soil conservation benefits. He will also be barred from government seed and production loans. In the fall of the year he will not be allowed to obtain any government cotton loan benefits.

Soil Conservation payments are continued in the new bill for those who cooperate in the program. The small farmer will be glad to learn that a definite increase has been ordered in the size of his payments. Approximately ten percent of all appropriations will be set aside for the purpose of increasing soil conservation payments to the small operator, receiving less than $200.

Beginning with 1939, no farm can be paid more than $10,000 in benefits.

An elected local committee will serve in the administration of the program.

The bill sets up a permanent cotton loan program for those who cooperate in the general farm program. The Commodity Credit Corporation is authorized, upon recommendation of the Secretary of Agriculture, and with the approval of the President, to make available loans upon cotton in any calendar year in which the average price on August 1 or 7/8 inch middling spot cotton is below 52% of the parity price. If loans are made, the bill provides that they shall be at not less than 52, nor more than 75 per cent, of the parity price of cotton, as of the beginning of the marketing year.

$130,000,000 is provided for payment of subsidy benefits to farmers on their 1937 cotton crop, if they cooperated in 1937. A farmer does not have to vote for future compulsory control in order to qualify himself for his part of this subsidy. He will receive his subsidy (3 cents a pound on the 1937 crop) so long as he agrees to cooperate, regardless of whether or not the quotas are put on.

The Dairy Amendment has been practically eliminated in the conference between the two Houses. It now will not have any effect at all, except in counties where there has been a substantial increase in dairying. If there is a substantial increase in any one county, then the county committeemen will have to find out what farmers are responsible for that increase, and their benefits payments will be withheld.

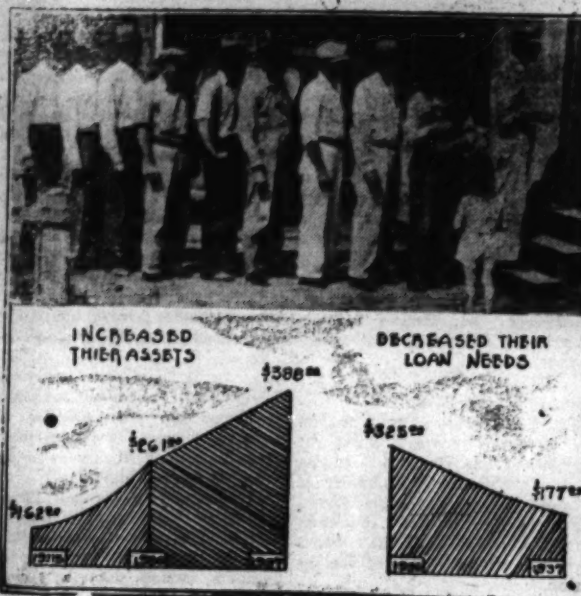

A million dollar Research Laboratory will be set up in the South to find new uses and new outlets for cotton. The Secretary of Agriculture will select the location, and the federal government will bear all the expenses for erection and operation.

CORN

There will be no marketing quotas on corn raised for sale except in the commercial corn growing areas. An area in which corn is grown commercially is defined by the bill to include all counties in which the average production of corn (excluding corn for silage) during the ten calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year for which such area is determined is 450 bushels or more per farm and four bushels or more for each acre of farm land in the county. The bill gives the Secretary of Agriculture authority to add counties or minor civil divisions if upon investigation he finds that such county or civil division is producing the same amounts as above set out. The penalty for violating quota provisions is fifteen cents per bushel on corn put on the market. Almost three billion bushels of corn must be actually found to be in existence before corn marketing quotas can be invoked by a 2/3 majority of a referendum among commercial corn growers.

Loans are made on corn only in the commercial areas, under the same price conditions as cotton, that is, when the price is from 62 to 75% of parity.

FROM BREAD LINE TO PAY LINE

The photo above is not, as you might think, a breadline. It is precisely the opposite—a pay line. It is a group of farmers waiting their turn at a county Farm Security Administration office to pay Uncle Sam what they owe on rural rehabilitation loans advanced them last year to make a crop and provide subsistence while they were doing it.

Some 28,500 rehabilitation farmers in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana, once creditless victims of the depression, have returned over $3,000,000 to the government during the past four months in loan payments.

Furthermore, most of them made substantial strides up the economic ladder.

The average rehabilitation borrower increased his assets from about $162 in 1936 to $388 at the end of 1937. This represents an increase in farm and home assets of over $6,000,000 for the entire group. Because he practiced a careful "live-at-home" farm and home program he had to borrow only $177 in 1937 where it required $326 to carry him thru the crop year in 1937. He will require an even smaller loan in 1938. Seven out of ten FSA farmers in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana are tenants. About one out of 19 made sufficient progress in 1937 to make a down payment on a farm of his own.

State Farm Produce A Tenth of Nation's Sweet Potato Supply

Other States Harvest Less Yet Sell More, Says Commissioner Holton

Producing a tenth of the nation's supply of sweet potatoes yet marketing only a hundredth of the total carlot movement, Mississippi farmers are in position to develop a substantial income from this source by increased marketings based upon centralized production and standardized quality, thinks J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture.

Official reports show that Mississippi ranked fourth in producing the nation's 1937 supply of 75.3 million bushels the four leading states being: Alabama 8.8 million bushels, Georgia 8.5 million bushels, North Carolina 8.1 million bushels, and Mississippi 7.5 million bushels.

"Cash income from sweet potatoes marketed is a different story," states the farm commissioner. "Louisiana, producing a million bushels less than Mississippi last year, had shipped 2,246 carloads to Feb. 5, whereas Mississippi has shipped only 42 carloads thus far. Compared with the Mississippi yield during the production year 1936, Tennessee, producing nearly 3 million bushels less, marketed 679 carloads there from; New Jersey, from a little more than one-third as many bushels produced, marketed 1,580 carloads; and Virginia, producing about two-thirds as much, marketed 2,603 carloads. Mississippi shipped 107 cars.

"Price has ranged since the first of the year from $1.40 to $1.60 per bushel crate, basis Louisiana U. S. No. 1, of which a third, very roughly speaking, must go for cost of packages, transportation, and selling. This is lower than a year ago but it beats 7-cent and 8-cent cotton.

"Sweet potatoes are produced at present on a great majority of farms in Mississippi, but mostly on small plots for home use. Conditions for production are at least as favorable as those enjoyed by our neighbors, but to increase cash marketings to hundreds of carloads will require centralized production, adequate housing and curing facilities, and standardized quality.

"The measuring stick of quality throughout the field of fruits and vegetables is inspection and grade certification under state and federal supervision. His service is not now available to sweet potato producers in Mississippi, as it is in Louisiana, Tennessee and other states. To provide this necessary basis for a substantial state-wide industry, the House of Representatives approved H. B. 381 by unanimous vote, and it is before the Senate at the week-end."

3,749 Fires Reported For The Year 1937

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 11—Figures released by the Mississippi Forest Service, covering the annual fire report for the calendar year 1937, shows 3,749 fires reported on the 4,336,684 acres under organized fire protection in the counties cooperating with the State Forest Service. These fires burned over 77,046 acres, or 1.75% of the area under protection. Chief of Forest Fire Control A. K. Dexter says:

"This shows a marked improvement over 1936 record, when there were 4,838 fires reported and 254,191 acres burned, which represents 5.67% of the area burned. It is interesting to note that the number of fires occurring were reduced during the year by 1,089 fires, while the area burned off shows a reduction of 177,145 acres.

"Weather conditions during 1937 were ideal from a fire protection standpoint. Intermittent rains during the month of March, which is our worst month, were very helpful in holding the fires to a minimum.

"According to the figures, the causes of the fires were approximately the same, with the exception of incendiary fires. This item showed a reduction of 1,100 fires, which is very encouraging, and indicates that the value of fire protection is appreciated more and more as time goes on. During 1937, five fires were started by lightning, 70 by railroads, 48 by campers, 134 by smokers, 522 by debris burning, 1,760 incendiary, 55 lumbering, 199 miscellaneous, and 1,036 unknown. Of these 3,749 fires occurring, 310 of them were less than 1-4 of an acre in size, as compared with 155 in 1936, 2,021 fires in 1937 were class B, or 10 acres and less, and in 1936, 1,752 fires were 10 acres and less, 1,418 fires were class C, or 10 acres and over in 1937, as compared with 2,931 in 1936.

"This reduction in the size of the fires in 1937 is due, in a large measure, to the improvement and efficiency of the State organization and also due to the improvement work done by the OOC camps in the protection counties. During 1937, 39 lookout towers were used in locating these fires and approximately 1,200 miles of telephone line. Most of these improvements were given to the State free by OOC. The OOC also furnished many man days of fire fighting, which also adds materially to the record just made.

"The average size of the fires in 1937 was 20.6 acres, while in 1936 the average size was 52.5 acres."

Buy Machines When You Need Them ---Pay a Little Out of Each Source of Income---on the ### INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER INCOME - PURCHASE PLAN

The founders of the International Harvester organization pioneered in the sale of farm equipment on "time." Because of this policy, hundreds of thousands of farmers have been able to enjoy the benefits of improved machinery years earlier than would otherwise have been possible. The machines have literally paid for themselves in time and money saved.

During the past year our terms have been improved, better meeting the needs of farmers. The new INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER INCOME - PURCHASE PLAN recognizes the fact that frequent small payments are easier to make than one large payment. It is so flexible that it can be adapted to each farmer's marketing schedule, permitting him to make his payments when he has cash coming from crops, livestock, or dairy or poultry products. Each farmer's requirements are considered and analyzed individually—resulting in a convenient schedule of payments, easy to meet.

Pay CASH on delivery for your International Harvester equipment when you can, but when cash must be conserved see what the INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER INCOME - PURCHASE PLAN offers you. Get the full benefit of the equipment you need—let it pay its way as you pay.

We will gladly discuss this plan with you in detail on request.

The Majestic picture show continues to grow in excellence and if there is any picture show that gives the people the worth of their money, it is the one in Grenada. The pictures are well chosen, many of them being historical and teaching wholesome lessons. The Majestic is a good place to spend a few pleasant hours.

Mr. J. H. Brown and wife and their daughter, Ione, returned the latter part of last week from Hot Springs. Mr. Brown was only there for a few days, but Mrs. Brown and her daughter had been there for several weeks. After spending two or three days at home, Miss Ione returned to Belmont College at Nashville.

Mrs. Lelia Wynne, of Claremont, N. H., is the guest of Mrs. Cora Griffin and other relatives in Grenada. Mrs. Wynne is always gladly welcomed in Grenada and she talks interestingly of affairs in New Hampshire and is enthusiastic when it comes to politics. She is a thorough Progressive and says that everybody, almost, up there is still enthusiastic over Roosevelt.

NOT SO OLD

According to a recent annual report issued by the Secretary of the Navy, one may well understand what is meant when it is said that the Navy is a youthful outfit. The statistics reveal that over one-fourth of our Navy is under 25, which, by the way, is the minimum recruitable age.

It is further revealed that 85 per cent of the enlisted personnel is under the 35th age post. There are 26,950 sailors in the United States Navy who have not reached the age of 25, and of this number, 17,078 are between the ages of 21 and 24.

PLANT BOARD WARNS AGAINST ILLEGAL SEED

State College, Miss., Feb. 13.—A few dealers are evading the new potato seed rule by selling uncertified seed as eating potatoes and telling the purchaser they are good seed, says R. P. Colmer, Chief Inspector of the State Plant Board. Mr. Colmer is warning growers not to be swindled by any such deception as uncertified potatoes are inferior and any dealer offering them for seed is violating the law. All buyers are urged to look for the state-certified tags on the bags and to report to the State Plant Board at State College when any uncertified potatoes are offered them as seed.

Numerous tests in Mississippi have shown that certified seed produce much better yields and the potatoes are of superior quality.

It is gratifying to know, says Mr. Colmer, that the great majority of the dealers are cooperating with the Board to the fullest extent and offering for sale only state certified seed.
